

Dear Sir/Madam,

With regard to media diversity, I suggest you consider that "absolute power corrupts absolutely". Megaopoly has already reduced accountability to the people by the rich and powerful to near zero. Imagine a world with only one book! Should that book be corrupt, than the world's views would be corrupt. Our country is nearly facist now, please don't grease the ways for it to slide further!

Sincerely,
John Carman